Wayne and New Holland School Districts won the opening round in their legal scrap to break away from the consolidated Westfall School District yesterday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

The two school districts, which are seeking permanent injunctions restraining the Westfall District from interfering in activities and disturbing assets, were granted a continuance of a temporary restraining order.

Judge Darrell Hottel, Highland County, who was substituting for Judge William Ammer on the bench, asked counsel for both groups to file briefs in the case by next Wednesday.

During the hearing it was announced that a state board of education conference on transfer petitions of both districts will be held in Columbus Friday afternoon.

Representing New Holland and Wayne yesterday was Joe F. Asher, Columbus. Representing the Pickaway County School Board and Westfall School Board were William Knepper and John Jenkins, of Knepper, White, Richards, Miller and Roberts, Columbus.

YESTERDAY'S hearing was on whether or not the temporary restraining order, which ties up New Holland and Wayne assets, should be continued until a hearing for a permanent injunction later.

Asher argued that the restraining order should be continued, at least until after the state board decides on petitions asking for transfer of New Holland district to Miami Trace District in Fayette County and Wayne Twp. School District to Circleville City School District.

Knepper asked that both Wayne and New Holland boards of education be dismissed from the action, since "neither has the capacity to act". He declared that the Westfall consolidation virtually eliminated the boards. Judge Hottel reserved decision on the motion.

Asher's arguments called on the court to maintain the status quo, to give the state board time to act. "Haste has been the keynote of the county board's action", he said.

Knepper said, "The only question is did the county board have the power to create this new district?" He declared that there is no Wayne and no New Holland.

Wayne and New Holland boards, along with taxpayers William A. Woods, Route 1, New Holland, and William Bartholomew, Route 2, Circleville, filed the suits. Defendants in both cases are the Pickaway County Board of Education; its clerk, county school superintendent George McDowell; the Westfall Board of Education and its clerk, Brice Connell.

About 60 persons were present for the hearing.

Ike Expected To Keep Door Open to Talks

Note to Russian Chief To Shun Immediate Summit Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is expected to send Soviet Premier Bulganin a message this weekend holding open the door to an eventual summit conference, but rejecting Bulganin's bid for such a session within three months.

Eisenhower's reply has been coordinated with those going from the government chiefs of Britain, France and other Allies in response to a series of notes Bulganin sent free world leaders in December.

It is understood the replies also will cover the substance of new Bulganin messages to NATO leaders and heads of many other governments this week.

Secretary of State Dulles gave the guidelines of U. S. policy at a news conference Friday. He said no summit meeting should be held—as Bulganin proposed Thursday—within two or three months. But Dulles left open the possibility of some future top level session provided "there is adequate preparation for it and a reasonable assurance that it will accomplish some desirable result."

DULLES denounced Bulganin's Thursday message as a propaganda move designed to steal world attention from Eisenhower's State of the Union message that same day. He accused the Soviets of trying to cover up bad policies on such matters as disarmament with clever propaganda.

Dulles said the Soviet proposal for an agreement to ban the use of nuclear weapons would not work and that the Kremlin's proposal to call off tests of such weapons would not advance disarmament "one inch."

"Nations that have relied for their existence on Soviet promises have almost uniformly lost it," Dulles said. "And, until there is a better record than that, I don't believe that the safety, perhaps the very existence of the United States, ought to be put at the hazard of a Soviet promise."

Dulles also said that the United States has no intention of changing its basic proposals on disarmament as agreed on between the NATO allies and presented to Russia in meetings at London last year unless there is some indication from Moscow that changes would be "futile and indeed reckless."

Girl, Age 10 1/2, Awaiting Stork

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A San Jose girl only 10 years old is due to have a baby in two weeks, Dr. Milton Chatton, director of Santa Clara County Medical Institutions, said Friday night.

The girl, a third-grade pupil, was made a ward of the juvenile court. She is in a church shelter in San Francisco where the birth is expected.

Dr. Chatton said medical records show the youngest mother in the world was a 5 1/2-year-old Peruvian who gave birth by Caesarean operation a few years ago.

Senator Chides Critical General

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today he considers it unfortunate an Air Force general has challenged President Eisenhower's program setting up a unified space agency in the Pentagon.

It was disclosed Friday night that Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever had told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee he thought the new agency now being organized would duplicate already existing Air Force capabilities. He is the Air Force missile chief.

Schriever's testimony was given behind closed doors on Thursday, the day Eisenhower informed Congress in his State of the Union message that "all the antimissile and satellite technology undertaken within the Department of Defense" would be concentrated in the new Advanced Research Projects Agency.

The testimony of Schriever, who also voiced other criticisms of missile and satellite policies, was released Friday night by the Air Force in a departure from normal procedure. Generally in such cases, the Pentagon permits the congressional committee to release testimony.

FLANDERS SAID:

"It seems the President showed leadership in straightening out the armed forces, and if his first move is publicly condemned by one of the services I think that is unfortunate."

Other senators, however, said Schriever was just being frank and airing disagreement.

Schriever criticized the Defense Department decision to use both the Army Jupiter and the Air Force Thor, 1,500-mile range intermediate range ballistic missiles. He indicated he thought greater missile strength could be achieved sooner by concentrating on the Thor.

The general also said the Air Force could immediately undertake several space projects by modifying the Thor. He said these included putting a satellite into orbit and making unmanned reconnaissance trips to the Moon, Mars and Venus "at a relatively early date."

So far, the Air Force has had no role in this country's effort to launch an earth satellite.

Last Dec. 13, Secretary of Defense McElroy disclosed plans for the new space agency. He said the ARPA would operate under a single manager and would not be controlled by any one service.

The Air Force then announced establishment of its own Directorate of Astronautics. That plan immediately was canceled at the direction of the Defense Department, which called the Air Force action premature.

The former army colonel said the new cabinet was "in accord with the sentiment of the national armed forces, the basic institution from which this government emanated." Perez Jimenez took over the presidency in 1952, by he said, "judgment of the armed forces."

THE VATICAN was openly aroused by the arrests of the priests the day after the uprising. An authoritative source at Vatican City said at the time a diplomatic break with Venezuela was imminent.

One of the five priests, the Rev. Jesus Hernandez Chapellin, director of the Catholic church newspaper La Religion, declared that the group had been treated "very incorrectly" in prison. He declined to elaborate.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Methodist churchman has warned against what he calls "mass hysteria in America that demands that our higher education program be radically changed so that we can be like sputniks and earth satellites superior to those of Russia."

Bishop Paul N. Garber of Richmond, Va., said: "In order to do this, it is being seriously urged that we copy the Russian plan of higher education."

Bishop Garber, chairman of the commission on Christian Higher Education of the Methodist Church addressed a general session of the group at its annual meeting here Friday.

He said that "one point in the American way of life has been the belief in a general broad liberal arts college course of study," and added:

"Despite the alarm now being sounded, I contend that this liberal arts course of study has provided in America more and greater scientists than in any other nation of the world and that our scientific discoveries have in the main been for the betterment of mankind."

DANGER AHEAD!

Beautiful, yes. Beautiful as only Nature in all her purity can be. But dangerous too; dangerous to the ships at sea and the men they carry. For an iceberg's greatest bulk lies unseen beneath the surface . . . and against it, the unwary cannot survive.

Many of the things which, on the surface, appear the most tempting and beautiful contain hidden dangers and unsuspected pitfalls.

Men, like ships, need warning and guidance — and nowhere can they find greater help, greater love and protection than in their Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP) — The bride and groom were both on hand. So were some 200 wedding guests. But a search had to be organized for the minister, the 53-year-old Rev. Raymond L. Wilson of the Presbyterian Church.

He turned up the next day trudging out of the rugged Klob Plateau country south of here. He said his truck stalled in mountain snows.

The father of the bride, Chester A. Thomas, solved the wedding dilemma, however, before the guests left the church. Thomas recalled a little-known Park Service regulation that would allow Zion Park Supt. Paul R. Franke to perform the ceremony.

Junk Cars Big Business

More than 56 million passenger cars are now registered in the United States, according to the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. This is not a bad record for an industry which began with a product considered an amusing spectacle at the turn of the century.

Many related industries have benefited greatly from the popularity of the automobile as a medium of transportation. It is estimated by the association that in 1957 more than 4 million cars were junked. This replacement market has been growing and now represents a sizable portion of the business of new car dealers and used car lots. Replacement markets provide many industries a form of guaranteed annual sales. In the case of automobiles, the high rate of junking is expected to continue because of the large number of pre-World War II autos still on the highways.

Back in 1925, the average automobile was expected to provide transportation for six and one-half years. The average car lasts almost twice as long today, and has a mileage "life expectancy" of 110,000 miles, as compared to 25,750 miles in 1925.

Economic forecasters may not be regarding the replacement market seriously enough in prognosticating business conditions in 1958. The high volume of goods produced in the past has flooded markets in the U. S. and abroad, creating a continuous replacement market—not to mention the many services required to maintain goods already in consumers' hands.

Industry has built a secondary market to strongly supplement its virgin sales.

Wives Best Dressed Women

Once again the list of the world's best-dressed woman has been announced.

Included are the Queen of England, screen stars, wives of industrial magnates and business executives, countesses, etc. All women with the wealth to make their wardrobe dreams come true.

In one sense, these undoubtedly are the best-dressed women—those with the imagination and wealth combined to dress well.

But what of the millions of women who dress tastefully and even exquisitely on much smaller budgets?

Who is the best cook—the one who can spend lavishly and use pounds of butter and heaps of spices for great culinary creations, or the housewife who day in and day out creates appealing, imaginative meals on an ordinary grocery budget?

There are observers who contend that some of the really best-dressed women in Paris are the shopgirls—the midinettes who know how to use combinations of skirts and blouses, of scarves and brooches to delight the onlooker day in and day out.

They have their counterparts in many thousands of secretaries and housewives in this country who surmount the difficulties of restricted clothing budgets to dress so well they amaze the beholder.

These are the world's best-dressed women, who need never doff their chapeaux to the wealthy on the official Dress Institute lists.

Sputnik Here We Come

I received a circular issued by a group in Levittown, New York, an enormous small home community. This circular is an example of the excitement engendered by Sputnik. Most of it deals with education. Sputnik more than all the arguments and propaganda and P.T.A. meetings has made parents conscious of the education that their children are receiving.

They are not yet conscious of the fact that a school teacher in a city of the size and wealth of New York earns about as much as a porter who sweeps the platform in the subway.

The Levittown circular tells the parents this story:

"In Russia: 4th grade—biology; 5th grade—foreign languages; 6th grade—physics, algebra & geometry; 7th grade—chemistry.

"In Levittown: no biology, no foreign languages, no physics, algebra or geometry; no chemistry.

"But what is really startling is the comparison of the pupil's achievement after only 10 years of study in Russia as compared with 12 years of study in Levittown.

"In Russia all high school graduates have taken: 5 years of physics; 5 years of biology; 4 years of chemistry; 5 years of advanced math; 6 years of foreign languages; 1 year of astronomy.

"In Levittown more than half the graduates have taken: no physics, no biology, no chemistry; no advanced mathematics; no foreign languages; no astronomy."

The psychological effect of Sputnik is not that it scared the American people. They are not scared. They are fighting mad. They have spent billions of dollars on schools, on colleges, on teachers and professors and they are beginning to ask what they got for their money. This is a question that will not subside and neither the politicians nor the professional educators can rationalize it away because how come we are doing so badly?

It reminds me of a letter that Mark Twain wrote in 1862 and which I recently read in "American Heritage," a most remarkable publication. In the first paragraph of that letter, Mark Twain wrote:

"...It appears to me that the very existence of the United States is threatened just now. I am afraid we have been playing the game of brag about as recklessly as I have ever seen it played..."

And in the same publication there is a letter from Walt Whitman, the poet, dated a year later in 1863, in which he speaks of Abraham Lincoln:

"...He has a face like a Hoosier Michael Angelo, so awful ugly it becomes beautiful, with its strange mouth, its deep cut, criss-cross lines, and its doughnut complexion. My notion is too, that underneath his outside smutched mannerism, and stories from third-class county papers... Mr. Lincoln keeps a fountain of first-class practical telling wisdom."

I do not dwell on the suppos-

White House Makes Change In Its News Social Calendar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced new 1958 social calendar today. It drops a big congressional, judicial and departmental reception and adds dinners for top diplomats, scientists and the military.

Altogether there will be six state dinners starting Jan. 16 and ending Feb. 11.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower are reinstating two dinners for the chiefs of foreign diplomatic missions, which have not been held since the start of the 1954-55 social season.

And with the new emphasis on science, the nation's top scientists will share a dinner with top military officials, to be held Feb. 4.

Another innovation will be musicals after each dinner to which large groups of additional official guests will be invited. It is expected in this way to bring to the White House most of the people who would have been invited to the congressional, judicial and departmental reception, originally scheduled for Jan. 23.

There will be no state receptions on the 1957-58 presidential social calendar. Before Eisenhower suffered his mild stroke in November, two receptions had been planned. The first, a diplomatic and military reception set for Dec. 3, was postponed because of the illness and has not been reinstated. The new schedule eliminates the Congress-judicial-departmental affair.

State dinners usually are for about 80 guests—with the after-dinner musicals bringing in additional visitors.

Customarily, the White House social season has included about 11 functions, usually 6 dinners and 5 receptions.

Fast Retail Trade Sale Climbs Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of a leading department store chain predicts retail sales will climb to $400 billion annually by 1976. This would be double the present volume.

Fred Lazarus Jr., chairman of the board of Federated Department Stores Inc., Cincinnati, said growth of trade will stem from improvement in living standards and from population growth. Of the 21 million increase in U. S. population since 1950, 83 per cent has been in metropolitan areas, the traditional bailiwick of the department store, he said.

LAFF-A-DAY

"You flunked arithmetic!"

Stop Thinking; Go to Sleep

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

All day long your boss probably has been urging you to "think." Well, a person who doesn't have to think while on the job probably doesn't have much of a job.

When you are ready to call it a day and go to bed, however, it's quite a different matter. That's when you should stop thinking and just go to sleep.

A regular night-time routine might be advisable for those of you who often have difficulty getting to sleep. As I have previously pointed out, a tepid bath just before you climb into bed will soothe a tired body and irritated nerves and help you to get to sleep.

A glass of warm milk is a good idea, too.

Fresh air in your bedroom (air it out during the day if you don't want the windows open at night) is essential for relaxing sleep. Your mattress should be firm and the sheets and blankets unwrinkled and not too heavy.

You'll sleep better, of course, if your bedroom is quiet and dark.

Once you are in bed, try this relaxing routine:

Curl your toes tightly and then relax them. Twist your ankles and then relax them. Stretch your legs, tighten your stomach muscles, then stretch your arms, your hands, fingers, shoulders, neck and facial muscles.

Red Paper Editor To Quit Party

NEW YORK (AP) — John Gates, editor of the American Communist party's daily newspaper and a leader in the party many years, said Friday he was quitting the party immediately.

At a news conference he asserted that "the Communist party ceases to be an effective force for democracy, peace and socialism in the United States."

A Gates faction in the party has for some time been involved in a bitter conflict with another group, headed by party chieftain William Z. Foster. The Foster forces in a dominant party position, a few days ago ordered suspension of the party paper, the Daily Worker.

Gates' group has wanted American Communists to take an "independent" position while the others have been for reaffirmation of loyalty to Moscow.

The differences were brought to a head when the Foster faction shut down the party's daily newspaper—a publication plagued for years by financial troubles.

Gates was to have retained the editorship of the Worker, a weekly weekend edition which is to continue.

Gates, a Communist since his undergraduate days at City College here, was one of the party leaders who served a prison term under a Smith Act conviction.

One by one stretch and relax and you'll really feel relaxed.

Sleep should come quickly and easily if you don't think about anything else from then on. Use your will power, if you must, but just refuse to think about anything.

As an average, a person needs about seven to eight hours sleep each night. Some get along with less and a few need more. Determine how much sleep you need by sleeping eight hours one week, nine the next and perhaps seven or even ten the following week.

If eight is sufficient that's fine. But if you are so reluctant to get up in the morning that you can talk yourself into thinking that you are catching a cold or some other disease and should probably stay home, then, sister, you need more sleep.

So, there you have them, a few tips on how you can live a healthful day, every day.

Try them out next week.

Question and Answer

C. G.: What causes multiple boils on the skin?

Answer: Boils or furuncles are caused by the entrance of bacteria into the hair follicles of the skin. The type of bacteria which usually causes this infection is known as the staphylococcus. Good hygiene, with frequent washing of the skin, often will keep this condition from occurring.

Back in 1925, the average automobile was expected to provide transportation for six and one-half years. The average car lasts almost twice as long today, and has a mileage "life expectancy" of 110,000 miles, as compared to 25,750 miles in 1925.

Economic forecasters may not be regarding the replacement market seriously enough in prognosticating business conditions in 1958. The high volume of goods produced in the past has flooded markets in the U. S. and abroad, creating a continuous replacement market—not to mention the services required to maintain goods already in consumers hands.

Industry has built a secondary market to strongly supplement its virgin sales.

Wives Best Dressed Women

Once again the list of the world's best-dressed woman has been announced.

Included are the Queen of England, screen stars, wives of industrial magnates and business executives, countesses, etc. All women with the wealth to make their wardrobe dreams come true.

In one sense, these undoubtedly are the best-dressed women—those with the imagination and wealth combined to dress well.

But what of the millions of women who dress tastefully and even exquisitely on much smaller budgets?

Who is the best cook—the one who can spend lavishly and use pounds of butter and heaps of spices for great culinary creations, or the housewife who day in and day out creates appealing, imaginative meals on an ordinary grocery budget?

There are observers who contend that some of the really best-dressed women in Paris are the shopgirls—the midinettes who know how to use combinations of skirts and blouses, of scarves and brooches to delight the onlooker day in and day out.

They have their counterparts in many thousands of secretaries and housewives in this country who surmount the difficulties of restricted clothing budgets to dress so well they amaze the beholder.

These are the world's best-dressed women, who need never doff their chapeaux to the wealthy on the official Dress Institute lists.

By George Sokolsky

I received a circular issued by a group in Levittown, New York, an enormous small home community. This circular is an example of the excitement engendered by Sputnik. Most of it deals with education. Sputnik more than all the arguments and propaganda and P.T.A. meetings has made parents conscious of the education that their children are receiving.

They are not yet conscious of the fact that a school teacher in a city of the size and wealth of New York earns about as much as a porter who sweeps the platform in the subway.

The Levittown circular tells the parents this story:

"In Russia: 4th grade—biology; 5th grade—foreign languages; 6th grade—physics, algebra & geometry; 7th grade—chemistry.

"In Levittown: no biology, no foreign languages, no physics, algebra & geometry; no chemistry.

"But what is really startling is the comparison of the pupil's achievement after only 10 years of study in Russia as compared with 12 years of study in Levittown.

"In Russia all high school graduates have taken: 5 years of physics; 5 years of biology; 4 years of chemistry; 5 years of advanced math; 6 years of foreign languages; 1 year of astronomy.

"In Levittown more than half the graduates have taken: no physics, no biology, no chemistry; no advanced mathematics;

I do not dwell on the supposed failures of his government; he has shown, I sometimes think an almost supernatural tact in keeping the ship afloat at all, with head steady, not only not going down, and now certain not to, but with proud and resolute spirit, and flag flying in sight of the world, menacing and high as ever. I say never yet captain, never ruler, had such a preexisting dangerous task as his, the past two years. I more and more rely upon his idiomatic western genius, careless of court dress or court decorums."

It reminds me of a letter that Mark Twain wrote in 1862 and which I recently read in "American Heritage," a most remarkable publication. In the first paragraph of that letter, Mark Twain wrote:

"...It appears to me that the very existence of the United States is threatened just now. I am afraid we have been playing the game of brag about as recklessly as I have ever seen it played..."

And in the same publication there is a letter from Walt Whitman, the poet, dated a year later in 1863, in which he speaks of Abraham Lincoln:

"...He has a face like a Hoosier Michael Angelo, so awful ugly it becomes beautiful, with its strange mouth, its deep cut, criss-cross lines, and its doughnut complexion. My notion is too, that a d u n e r a t h his outside smutched mannerism, and stories from third-class county barrooms... Mr. Lincoln keeps a fountain of first-class practical telling wisdom."

I do not dwell on the supposed failures of his government; he has shown, I sometimes think an almost supernatural tact in keeping the ship afloat at all, with head steady, not only not going down, and now certain not to, but with proud and resolute spirit, and flag flying in sight of the world, menacing and high as ever. I say never yet captain, never ruler, had such a preexisting dangerous task as his, the past two years. I more and more rely upon his idiomatic western genius, careless of court dress or court decorums."

Then we shall get to work and the slogan will be, "Sputnik, here we come!" And where is it all to begin? Not in Washington; not in the state capitals or in the great universities with their ivy covered walls. It must start in the first grade of our elementary schools, where our intellectual life begins. That is why in such a small community as Levittown, New York, and in similar communities, such a circular as I have described was issued by a parents' committee.

White House Makes Change In Its News Social Calendar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced a new 1958 social calendar today. It drops a big congressional, judicial and departmental reception and adds dinners for top diplomats, scientists and the military.

Altogether there will be six state dinners starting Jan. 16 and ending Feb. 11.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower are reinstating two dinners for the chiefs of foreign diplomatic missions, which have not been held since the start of the 1954-55 social season.

And with the new emphasis on science, the nation's top scientists will share a dinner with top military officials, to be held Feb. 4.

Another innovation will be musicals after each dinner to which large groups of additional official guests will be invited. It is expected in this way to bring to the White House most of the people who would have been invited to the congressional, judicial and departmental reception, originally scheduled for Jan. 23.

There will be no state receptions on the 1957-58 presidential social calendar. Before Eisenhower suffered his mild stroke in November, two receptions had been planned. The first, a diplomatic and military reception set for Dec. 3, was postponed because of the illness and has not been reinstated. The new schedule eliminates the Congress-judicial-departmental affair.

State dinners usually are for about 80 guests — with the after-dinner musicals bringing in additional visitors.

Customarily, the White House social season has included about 11 functions, usually 6 dinners and 5 receptions.

LAFF-A-DAY

"You flunked arithmetic!"

Stop Thinking; Go to Sleep

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

All day long your boss probably has been urging you to "think." Well, a person who doesn't have to think while on the job probably doesn't have much of a job.

When you are ready to call it a day and go to bed, however, it's quite a different matter. That's when you should stop thinking and just go to sleep.

A regular night-time routine might be advisable for those of you who often have difficulty getting to sleep. I have previously pointed out, a tepid bath just before you climb into bed will soothe a tired body and irritated nerves and help you to get to sleep.

A glass of warm milk is a good idea, too.

Fresh air in your bedroom (air it out during the day if you don't want the windows open at night) is essential for relaxing sleep. Your mattress should be firm and the sheets and blankets unwrinkled and not too heavy.

You'll sleep better, of course, if your bedroom is quiet and dark.

Once you are in bed, try this relaxing routine:

Curl your toes tightly and then relax them. Twist your ankles and then relax them. Stretch your legs, tighten your stomach muscles, then stretch your arms, your hands, fingers, shoulders, neck and facial muscles.

Red Paper Editor To Quit Party

NEW YORK (AP) — John Gates, editor of the American Communist party's daily newspaper and a leader in the party many years, said Friday he was quitting the party immediately.

At a news conference he asserted that "the Communist party ceases to be an effective force for democracy, peace and socialism in the United States."

A Gates faction in the party has for some time been involved in a bitter conflict with another group, headed by party chieftain William Z. Foster. The Foster forces in a dominant party position, a few days ago ordered suspension of the party paper, the Daily Worker.

Gates' group has wanted American Communists to take an "independent" position while the others called for reaffirmation of loyalty to Moscow.

The differences were brought to a head when the Foster faction shut down the party's daily newspaper—a publication plagued for years by financial troubles.

Gates was to have retained the editorship of the Worker, a weekly weekend edition which is to continue.

Gates, a Communist since his undergraduate days at City College here, was one of the party leaders who served a prison term under a Smith Act conviction.

Paris' famed Folies Bergere show, which featured scantily clad girls, has closed down due to a wage dispute. For visiting firemen, this may be a case of no nudes being bad news.

Parisians, according to a dispatch from London, are miffed about the exodus of English scientific brains to the U. S. According to Aitch Kay it isn't our British accent, but our accent on British they object to.

One by one stretch and relax and you'll really feel relaxed.

Sleep should come quickly and easily if you don't think about anything else from then on. Use your will power, if you must, but just refuse to think about anything.

As an average, a person needs about seven to eight hours sleep each night. Some get along with less and a few need more. Determine how much sleep you need by sleeping eight hours one week, nine the next and perhaps seven or even ten the following week.

If eight is sufficient that's fine. But if you are so reluctant to get up in the morning that you talk yourself into thinking that you are catching a cold or some other disease and should probably stay home, then, sister, you need more sleep.

So, there you have them, a few tips on how you can live a healthful day, every day.

Try them out next week.

Question and Answer

C. G.: What causes multiple boils on the skin?

Answer: Boils, or furuncles are caused by the entrance of bacteria into the hair follicles of the skin. The type of bacteria which usually causes this infection is known as the staphylococcus. Good hygiene, with frequent washing of the skin, often will keep this condition from occurring.

KURT HELBER — Young pianist will give a recital as a candidate for a music degree at Ohio State University's School of Music.

Kurtz Helber Plans Recital For January 19

Kurtz Helber, who teaches piano at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Reichelderfer, 131 E. Union St., will play a piano recital as a candidate for the degree Bachelor of Music at Ohio State University's School of Music, January 19 at 8:15 p. m.

The young pianist has made numerous appearances in central Ohio on television and radio, as well as entertaining on campus and locally. He has studied on scholarship since beginning his college training; is a member of Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia, men's national professional music honorary; maintains a class of piano students both in Circleville and Columbus; and has begun post-graduate studies at Ohio State.

The highlight of the recital will be Mr. Helber's interpretation of the original piano score of Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," which are better-known in their orchestral setting by M. Ravel.

It was an exhibition of paintings and drawings by Victor Hartmann that inspired Moussorgsky to set his impressions of the pictures to individual descriptive pieces for piano, which he linked together with short "promenades" and published in 1874.

Other works to be played are A. Schonberg's "Sechs Kleine Klavierstücke"; Mozart's "Sonata in B-flat Major, K. 333," and Bela Bartok's "Six Roumanian Dances."

The recital will be held in the music school's auditorium and is open to the public without admission charge.

Prayer was given by Mrs. Barr and Bible Study was led by Mrs. White.

Missionary Education Emphasis was presented by chairman, Miss Daisy Murray. Mrs. McGinnis served as narrator when a film on New Guinea was presented.

Darby Retains League Lead

Hands Pickaway 64-46 Cage Loss

The Darby Trojans continued their mastery over the Pickaway County league last night with a 64-46 win over Pickaway. Darby now has six league wins with no defeats and Pickaway stands at 2 and 4.

The Trojans went right to work and took a first quarter lead 19 to 9. Pickaway kept pace with the Trojans in the second quarter as both teams scored 16 points. Charlie Baxter's Pirate quintet was without the services of starter Nathan Wilson who was ill. Gail Wolfe, who replaced Wilson, led the Pickaway scoring with 16 points. Darby led at halftime 37 to 27.

Darby moved out sharply after the intermission scoring 15 points and holding Pickaway to four. The third period score read 52 to 31 in favor of the Trojans and they coasted home from that point on.

The Trojan's leading point-maker, Ronny Gutheil, had trouble last night as Pickaway concentrated on the 6-4 center and held him to 14 points. Ned Musselman took over for Gutheil and led the scoring for both teams with 20 points.

Pickaway made 22 of 61 attempts from the field for a 37 per cent shooting average and grabbed 27 rebounds. Darby's victory was strictly on its rebounding and jump shooting of Musselman. The Trojans have won eight and lost one, that being to Amanda.

Stoutsville Tribe Drops Game, 69-57

The Stoutsville Indians put up a spirited, but losing, battle last night against league opponent Breman for a 69 to 57 defeat. The Indians, handicapped by a small Breman court and bigger opponent, played their best game since the Rushville tilt.

The Stoutsville big men played an outstanding game as Ray Reinheld tallied 24 points, followed by teammate Ronny Hill with 17. Team play was also working to perfection, but Breman, who now has an 8 and 3 record, was just a little better. Twelve points better, in fact!

Breman led 17 to 12 by the end of the first quarter and 35 to 21 at halftime, as they had a big second period scoring 17 points and holding the Indians to nine. Tipton, who Stoutsville coach Kermit Macafferty says is the best jump shot he has seen all season, made the difference in this quarter with deadly accuracy from out in front of the key.

Stoutsville rallied somewhat in the third period scoring 22 points to Breman's 18 to trail 53 to 43 at the third quarter's end. Breman's center, Howdyshell, a 6-4½ young man was exceptionally tough in the second half on offensive rebounds and stemmed any Stoutsville tide for narrowing the margin.

Hill was hitting his jump shots from around the bucket and Reinheld tallied his points with a set shot from the side and rebounds. Stoutsville now stands 5 and 5 on the season and 2 and 3 in league play.

The Stoutsville reserves won their ninth straight with a 29 to 28 victory over Breman. With 2:02 on the clock Stoutsville trailed by six points but rallied to win.

Monroe's offense was paced by Sheets who collected 12 markers. Mowery added eight more.

Walnut jumped off to a 19-6 first period lead and had little trouble from then on. The Indians fought a game battle but could not cope with the Tigers' high-gear attack.

Laurelville, which scored consistently throughout the game, led 20 to 14 at the end of the first quarter as Mickey Young and Wendell Frazier completely dominated both bankboards the entire game.

Rockbridge made 22 of 61 attempts from the field for a 37 per cent shooting average and grabbed 27 rebounds. Darby's victory was strictly on its rebounding and jump shooting of Musselman. The Trojans have won eight and lost one, that being to Amanda.

Dems Eye All Ohio Offices Except Secretary of State

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats are knee deep in candidates for administrative state offices this year—with one notable exception.

None of the party stalwarts, who assert this is a Democratic year, show any immediate desire to seek nomination for secretary of state and the right to oppose Ted W. Brown, Republican incumbent, in the general election.

A score of Democratic hopefuls have lined up for nominations for governor and lieutenant governor. More are expected before the Feb. 5 filing deadline for bona fide candidates separates the men from the boys.

A glance at Brown's vote-getting and administrative records shows why Democrats are having trouble in their announced intention of fielding a complete slate of candidates "from top to bottom" for the May primary.

Brown's fourth-term winning margin in 1956 over Hubert Lynch of Cleveland was 648,483 votes to lead the state ticket. Brown's edge in populous Cuyahoga County, a Democratic stronghold, was 42,789.

Associates attribute Brown's success to a combination of hard work and cooperation from local officials who run Ohio's complicated election machinery. With their help, he persuaded the Legislature to simplify and strengthen Ohio election laws. The result has been increased voting and fewer election irregularities.

Brown made it clear early in his administration that his decisions in election disputes would be based on the statutes instead of politics. Courts have upheld him in most of the appeals from his decisions. Cooperation from the two-party county election boards followed.

The secretary of state also obtained legislative action to streamline state laws on trade marks used by business firms. Other states have since used the Ohio laws as a model to follow.

Brown's operations also include a policy of one-day service in his corporation department which registers new companies formed or doing business in the state. All office mail is answered promptly, a change from the policy of previous administrations to yield political dividends.

All of which, friends said, helps account for the reluctance of office seekers to oppose Brown, 52-year-old former Clark County recorder, in his bid for a fifth term although state officials, starting next year, will serve for four years instead of two years.

U.S., Russia Vying On Burmese Farms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia and the United States, in the view of a young Ohio farmer, are engaged in peaceful competition in Burma on the agricultural front.

Both countries, says William J. Twarogowski, 27, of Thompson, Geauga County, are doing a good job there in demonstrating the advantages of modern farming techniques.

"But the Russians seem to be getting an awful lot of propaganda about themselves in the Burma newspapers," he said. "There is not too much publicity about the United States."

Twarogowski expressed these views after a recent 3½ month trip through Burma as a delegate of the National 4-H Club.

Death Beats Soldier To Injured Brother

MARIETTA (AP) — Despite a dramatic at-sea transfer from a Europe-bound troopship to an inbound cargo vessel, Army Pvt. Thomas Lang arrived too late to see his dying brother Bernard, 22.

The soldier was enroute overseas when informed by radio that his brother was seriously injured by a falling tree. The victim died Thursday morning in Marietta Memorial Hospital.

Fumes Blamed in Death

COLUMBUS (AP) — Mrs. Mary M. Eanes, 75, whose body was found in bed in her Columbus home Friday, may have died of carbon monoxide poisoning, a coroner said. Official ruling was withheld pending further tests.

Warren Pharmacist Loses in Tax Appeal

COLUMBUS (AP) — The State Board of Tax Appeals has upheld an $1,897 sales tax deficiency assessment against William Darr, doing business as Darr's Prescription Pharmacy in Warren.

Tax examiners audited books from Sept. 15, 1951, to June 30, 1955. They found Darr kept no record of taxable sales and checked his sales once in 1956 and again in 1957 to estimate sales.

Insurance Hike Talked

COLUMBUS (AP) — There are rumblings of prospective increases in auto insurance rates in Ohio. Supt. of Insurance Arthur I. Vorys said insurance companies have been talking about asking for rate hikes but none has actually done so.

Tax Ruling Is Made

COLUMBUS (AP) — Funds derived from a tax levy for the support of county hospitals may be used only for the support of the hospitals and cannot be transferred to the county's general fund, Atty. Gen. William Saxe ruled Friday.
